WELCOME

July 5, 2023

Welcome to the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University. Founded in 1924, the Maxwell School was the first school in the United States to provide graduate education in public administration. I am pleased to welcome you as our 99th class. Graduates from our program provide innovative leadership and rigorous analysis at all levels of government and in the private and non-profit sectors across the United States and around the world.

The school, with its prominent and accessible faculty, diverse study body, extensive and loyal alumni network, and world-class facilities, offers an ideal learning environment for graduate education in public affairs. During your time at Maxwell, you will be challenged by our dynamic faculty to learn within a supportive environment that prepares you for the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead.

At Maxwell, we value the experiences and perspectives that each person brings to our community and are committed to creating a departmental-wide environment of inclusion, equity, diversity, and belonging. We honor the diversity among our students, staff, and faculty and believe that these differences are important ingredients for building stronger institutions, finding creative solutions to pressing problems, and are the foundation of democracy.

The M.P.A. program is grounded in a comprehensive view of public service education that appreciates the need for three areas of mastery:

- formulating, implementing, and evaluating policy;
- leading and managing organizations with diverse stakeholders;
- and applying rigorous, evidence-based analysis to inform decision making.

This handbook describes the M.P.A. program requirements, specialized programs-of-study, and course offerings. You can also consult our website, which has the most up-to-date information available. Our faculty and staff are happy to answer any additional questions and to enthusiastically support your educational goals. Please feel free to talk with any of us as you plan your academic schedule and begin your studies.

Again, welcome to the Maxwell School and the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs. We are so glad that you are here!

Colleen Heflin
Associate Dean, Chair, and Professor

MISSION STATEMENT

The Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) program at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to enhance knowledge and develop skills essential to careers in public service. We believe public service means using one's abilities and opportunities to contribute to the broad public good, across levels of government and with nonprofit and for-profit organizations, nationally and internationally.

The M.P.A. program is grounded in a comprehensive view of public service education that appreciates the need for three areas of mastery: formulating, implementing, and evaluating policy; leading and managing organizations with diverse stakeholders; and applying rigorous, evidence-based analysis to inform decision making.

To accomplish this mission, the Maxwell School's M.P.A. program is designed with several distinctive features, including a twelve-month intensive cohort experience, a broad cross-section of domestic and international students, productive and accessible faculty who are engaged in applied interdisciplinary research, and a focus on citizenship in teaching, scholarship, and service.

MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (M.P.A.)

In a society facing complex problems, there is a great need for skilled public managers and policy analysts. The Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) educates leaders to fulfill these public service careers.

Since its inception in 1924, the Maxwell School and its faculty have significantly influenced public administration's growth and development. The M.P.A. is designed principally, but not exclusively, for those who plan to pursue careers in the public and not-for-profit sectors. The degree prepares individuals for careers as managers and policy analysts in government agencies and closely associated organizations.

More than 35,000 Maxwell School alumni work in federal, state, and local governments, nonprofit agencies and foundations, private firms, and university faculties worldwide.

The M.P.A. degree provides students with proficiency in skills and knowledge essential to public service careers. This includes: (1) formulating, implementing, and evaluating policy; (2) leading and managing organizations with diverse stakeholders; and (3) applying rigorous, evidence-based analysis to decision making.

This ensures that all graduates: (1) can apply qualitative and quantitative methods of research and analysis to public policy issues; (2) achieve substantial competency in organization design and analysis, and in management and administration techniques; and (3) understand the political, economic, and social context of public administration.

M.P.A. Degree Requirements

The M.P.A. degree requires 40 credits of graduate coursework, including 25 credits of required coursework and 15 credits of elective courses. Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0.

M.P.A. Core Requirements

All M.P.A. candidates must fulfill ALL core course requirements. The core curriculum confers proficiency in the following areas of Public Administration:

Applied Public Management Principles

Applied Decision-Making

Citizenship & Public Affairs

Leadership

Policy Formulation

Programmatic Design

Public & Nonprofit Organizations

Quantitative Policy Analysis

M.P.A. Core Coursework (25 Credits)

PAI 600	Public Affairs Colloquium
PAI 712	Public Organizations & Management, OR PAI 748 Non-Profit Management, OR PAI 762 Challenges of International Management and Leadership
PAI 721	Introduction to Statistics
PAI 722	Quantitative Analysis
PAI 723	Economics for Public Decisions
PAI 734	Public Budgeting
PAI 752	M.P.A. Workshop
PAI 753	Leadership and Public Policy
PAI 755	Public Administration & Democracy

Waiver Exam for Economics or Statistics Core Courses

Students with knowledge comparable to that covered in PAI 721-Introduction to Statistics and PAI 723-Economics for Public Decisions can waive out of these courses by demonstrating current knowledge of the course content. Students who pass these exams waive the core requirement.

The waiver exams for PAI 721 and PAI 723 take place immediately prior to the fall and spring semesters. Students may only attempt the non-credit bearing exam once. The department has course syllabi and preparation materials on hand to provide context for the exams.

Specialized Coursework (15 Credits)

Students can take 15 credits of coursework designed to develop specialization areas in policy sub-fields. These selections are made in consultation with an academic advisor and draw on the interdisciplinary strengths of the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) and the Maxwell School. At least nine of these credits must be in PAIA. Specialization areas include:

- Data Analytics for Public Policy*
- Environmental Policy and Administration*
- International Development and Administration*
- National and International Security Policy*
- Public and Nonprofit Management*
- Government Financial Analysis & Management*
- Social Inequality and Policy*

Expected Course Load

Full-time graduate students at Syracuse University register for at least nine credits in the fall and spring semesters and at least six credits during the summer semester. Registering for fewer credits may affect financial aid, visa status, or graduate award eligibility.

Time Required to Complete the M.P.A. Program

The M.P.A. program can be completed in 12 months of full-time study, with coursework in both summer terms. Most students complete the program on this schedule. For students who wish to extend their studies to better balance work responsibilities and incorporate more formalized experiential learning into their studies, it is possible to extend your residency further.

M.P.A. students can pursue the degree on an eighteen-month schedule, incorporating a full-time internship during their second summer (summer 2024) and complete their M.P.A. Workshop and Leadership and Public Policy coursework during their second fall (fall 2024).

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY, EQUITY, INCLUSION, AND ACCESSIBILITY (DEIA)

The Department of Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) of the Maxwell School strives to create and maintain a diverse, inclusive, equitable, and accessible learning environment in which all students, faculty, and staff are treated fairly and empowered to achieve their goals. We value the experiences and perspectives that each person brings to our community and honor the differences among our students, staff, and faculty. We believe that these differences are important ingredients for building stronger institutions, finding creative solutions to pressing problems, and are the foundation of democracy.

Through its educational programs, the department is dedicated to equipping students with the knowledge and skills necessary to understand, live among, value, and collaborate with individuals from diverse backgrounds in an inclusive global society. We also seek to empower students to develop the perspectives, knowledge, and skills required to help recognize, diagnose, and address inequities in their future workplaces, in public service efforts, and in broader society.

Below is a partial list of courses available to students that address DEIA issues, issues of social inequality, or issues of social change as explicit elements of the primary course learning objectives.

- PAI 601: Fundamentals of Conflict Studies
- PAI 712: Public Organizations and Management
- PAI 747: Human Resource Management in the Public Sector
- PAI 750: Managing Interpersonal, Group, and Systemic Conflict
- PAI 753: Leadership and Public Policy
- PAI 781: Social Welfare Policy
- PAI 783: The Changing American Health Care System

There are also other courses offered throughout the Maxwell School that address these issues. We encourage students to explore course offerings in other departments as electives.

Syracuse University's Community Standards works to foster personal responsibility and community accountability. By recognizing - <https://experience.syracuse.edu/community-standards/bias-response/what-is-bias/>, reporting - <https://experience.syracuse.edu/community-standards/bias-response/report-bias/> and preventing - <https://experience.syracuse.edu/community-standards/bias-response/bias-education/> bias-related or hate incidents, we can foster an even more inclusive campus community where all members feel welcomed and supported.

If you have been the target of bias (or have witnessed or heard about a bias-related incident), please report to Community Standards. You can report by emailing stopbias@syrr.edu, or using the Bias Report Form: https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?SyracuseUniv&layout_id=60

The Maxwell School has its own Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, run by the Associate Dean for DEIA, Gladys McCormick (gmccormi@syr.edu), who oversees a range of initiatives of interest to our students. This includes affinity groups for our graduate students of color as well as our international graduate students.

AREAS OF STUDY

The following areas of study guide the selection of elective courses. Pursuing coursework in each of these areas of study develops competencies in a specific management or policy focus area within the M.P.A. program structure.

PAIA has identified the following programs of study as falling under the overall M.P.A. program:

- Data Analytics for Public Policy*
- Environmental Policy and Administration*
- Government Financial Analysis and Management*
- International Development and Administration*
- National and International Security Policy*
- Public and Nonprofit Management*
- Social Inequality and Policy*

THE BENEFITS OF A BLENDED PROGRAM

Most M.P.A. students select specialized coursework from multiple program areas. By completing a minimum of three courses (nine credits) in a particular area of study, a student can build the specialization in one area and still use other electives to broaden one's skills and knowledge.

The additional six credits of elective coursework may be selected from other PAIA departmental courses, other departments within the Maxwell School or from the broader Syracuse University community.

DATA ANALYTICS FOR PUBLIC POLICY

Contemporary technologies are generating tremendous amounts of real-time data. Computer algorithms and sophisticated metrics help convert the data into actionable information that can help inform policy and improve delivery of government services. The availability and sensitivity of the data, as well as the increasing reliance on algorithms to drive decisions, raise a host of public policy issues.

Students in this program will learn advanced skills in managing and analyzing copious amounts of data and gain familiarity with policy and governance issues raised by using emerging technologies and resulting data. Through rigorous coursework, they will assess how data can inform decision-making and master analytical frameworks to address public sector challenges, as well as understand the ethical and public policy issues raised by expanding the use of big data and algorithmically driven decision-making and ways to address those issues. This new area of specialization recognizes the increasing employer demand for expertise in extracting, storing, and managing data, as well as an understanding of ways in which data can inform government decision-making.

- Urban Institute, Data Scientist
- World Bank, Data Analyst
- World Bank, Data Research & Evaluation
- World Bank, Data Scientist
- ZS, Data Science Associate Consultant

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY AND ADMINISTRATION

The environmental policy and administration area of study develops an understanding of the economic, administrative, political, and legal challenges confronting policymakers, public managers, and others involved in the public policy process who address contemporary environmental challenges, both in the U.S. and globally. Environmental policy and administration coursework provides an understanding of the challenges and tradeoffs inherent in designing, administering, and complying with environmental policy, as well as the challenges faced by non-governmental actors addressing environmental challenges.

Areas of recent and current environmental policy research of Maxwell School faculty include global climate change, energy policy, innovation and the energy transition, water resource management, public participation and the policy process, and climate adaptation.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATES AND JOINT DEGREES

In addition to environmental policy & administration coursework, students can pursue coursework toward certificate programs and joint degrees with the Syracuse University College of Law. These latter options are further explained in the Joint and Concurrent Degree Programs section.

EMPLOYMENT

There is a growing need for individuals with both managerial and environmental expertise. Students completing this area of study are well prepared for a variety of positions, including those similar to the following, currently held by Maxwell alumni. These include:

- Adirondack Council, Clean Water Advocate
- Antea Group USA, ESG Sustainability Consultant
- Booz Allen Hamilton, Senior Consultant, Energy Policy Analysis
- Chesapeake Research Consortium, Environment Management Staffer

GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL ANALYSIS AND MANAGEMENT

The government financial analysis and management area of study provides students with knowledge and skills to use fiscal information to help make managerial and policymaking decisions. It also provides technical knowledge and skills required of professionals in budget and finance offices, legislative agencies, budget positions in service-delivering agencies, nongovernmental organizations that contract with governments, and other organizations associated with state and local finance functions.

This area of study introduces students to key institutions involved in state and local finance, critical fiscal policy issues facing state and local governments, application of analytical techniques to fiscal issues, and fiscal data sources.

Current research and consulting activities of core faculty include equity and administration of the property tax, mechanisms of public budgeting, fiscal institutions and budget deficits, and education finance adequacy, equity, and efficiency, and public-school districts' resource allocation and school spending.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY POLICY

Government and private sector leaders face a myriad of international and national security policy challenges. Managing risks associated with advances in technology and climate change as well as securing financial, transportation, and communications systems must be balanced with the need to protect privacy and civil rights. Leaders must devise and implement comprehensive counterterrorism and counterintelligence strategies that span all levels of government.

This area of study offers an entry point to gain insight into and contribute to the development of innovative approaches to international and national security within national governments, international institutions, and the private sector. The core of the curriculum provides a foundation in national security law, policy and strategic practice, foreign policy and international security challenges, and civil-military relations.

Students will augment their coursework by engaging in simulation exercises and exploring case studies, participating in discussions with faculty members, practitioners, and experts in the field, and conducting research projects. All of these approaches develop leadership and management skills, capabilities, and insights relevant to confronting pressing security demands.

PUBLIC AND NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT

The Maxwell School has focused on public management training since its inception. This area of study provides graduates with a wide range of managerial and administrative concepts and skills.

By emphasizing broad-based analytical and managerial skills, the public and nonprofit management program provides training that prepares students for careers at all levels of government, in nonprofit organizations, and with private firms that principally work with the public and social sector.

Students will obtain knowledge of the tools of governance, organizational management theories and practices, institutions and policies surrounding personnel administration, strategic public and nonprofit management, policy implementation, managing groups and teams, oversight and accountability, the role of technology and information in public and nonprofit management, and collaborative public management, negotiation, and conflict resolution, among other topics.

Faculty teaching the public and nonprofit management area represent a wide range of interests, reflecting the breadth of this area of study. These faculty focus on organization structure and design, policy tools and implementation, service delivery networks, partnerships and contracts, managerial leadership, politics of civil service, social entrepreneurship, philanthropy in nonprofit organizations, managerial leadership, public administration and law, collaborative public management, nonprofit leadership, and citizen participation in the policy process.

SOCIAL INEQUALITY AND POLICY

With rising income inequality, systemic racial inequity, and continuing global crises, social policies are more crucial than ever to address issues related to distributional equity and equality of opportunity and access. The field of social policy encompasses policy analysis, policy design, program evaluation, and program implementation, preparing students to become next-generation leaders across a variety of sectors including government, industry, and non-profit organizations. With the area's emphasis on data-driven and evidenced-based approaches, students will gain the knowledge and tools to tackle public policy concerns such as poverty, food insecurity, unemployment, disability, education, health disparities, and healthy aging.

Faculty members in this area are leading experts in major social programs, primarily in the U.S. context. Their research addresses the challenges of social inequality across the life cycle, ranging from fertility and childhood to retirement and aging. They also analyze the design and effectiveness of food assistance, education, health care, unemployment and disability benefits, and family support programs.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING AT THE MAXWELL SCHOOL

Master of Public Administration students develop professional competencies throughout their studies at the Maxwell School, but there are several additional options to develop further skills.

EXPERIENCE CREDIT OPTION - PAI 670

Internships and other professional development opportunities enable students to gain valuable experience in governmental and nonprofit agencies, while providing these agencies the services of graduate students with high potential for future achievement. These experiences also allow for greater application of classroom learning and service in a contemporary context, integrating academics with professional skills.

Internships are strongly recommended for students lacking experience or moving in new professional directions.

Students may earn up to three credits for internships and apply these credits toward their degree requirements. This experiential learning appears on a transcript as PAI 670 - Experience Credit. Students may also engage in internships simply to build their resume, without earning credit. Please note that JD/M.P.A. students cannot count internships towards the M.P.A. degree.

The following parameters must be met to count an internship for credit:

Internship Academic Requirements

Internship credit is not earned for work conducted before a student matriculates or after a student has completed all degree requirements.

Students will work with a faculty advisor to link their public administration coursework with the internship experience. The faculty advisor supports students, providing guidance, feedback, and periodic check-ins. The faculty advisor is a mentor, helping students navigate the challenges and opportunities encountered during their internship. They offer advice on research methodologies, suggest additional readings, and facilitate reflection on the practical implications of academic theories.

Students will complete a set of written assignments to earn credit for the internship, including a written internship assessment. This reflective assessment evaluates the internship's impact on students' academic achievements and professional development. Students are encouraged to analyze the practical application of their theoretical knowledge, critically assess the organization they worked with, and reflect on how the experience informs their future career aspirations.

Service Time Requirements

For an internship to be counted towards the M.P.A. degree, there must be a minimum of 135 hours over either a six-week (summer) or ten-week period (fall and spring). These should be considered as minimum requirements. Longer internships over the summer are encouraged for students pursuing the 18-month program plan.

Internship Registration

Internships for credit are registered under the course PAI 670 - Experience Credit. Registration for PAI 670 requires the registration form “Internship Proposal-Agreement” (available on the Registrar’s Website: <https://registrar.syr.edu/students/student-forms/>).

This form specifies the agreed upon duties of the intern, and the procedure and criteria by which the intern’s performance will be evaluated. Both the student and the faculty advisor who will supervise the intern must sign the form prior to registration. Registration for an internship must be completed no later than the academic drop deadline for the semester it is registered in.

INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSE OPTION - PAI 690

A student may earn course credit by enrolling in PAI 690 Independent Study. Enrollment in an independent study is reserved for students who want to do work in an area where no formal course is available, or in an area where they have already completed one or more formal courses and wish to continue work.

Students enrolling in PAI 690 Independent Study are required to describe their study plan on the appropriate registration form and obtain signatures of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the work and the department chair.

Approval by the supervising faculty member and the department chair must be obtained prior to registration for the semester in which the independent study will be conducted.

M.P.A. WORKSHOP - PAI 752

The M.P.A. workshop serves as a culminating experience for M.P.A. students. By engaging in a four-week, full-time experience, students investigate and address contemporary issues in public administration and policy and apply theoretical knowledge of public administration topics to real-world challenges.

Examples of past workshop projects and clients can be requested from Maria Boemi, Associate Director of Internships and Experiential Learning.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

PAIA believes a multi-layered interactive advising approach is preferable to an assigned-advisor structure. Therefore, all departmental faculty, staff, and alumni are available for advising.

Faculty in PAIA play an active role in academic advising alongside the department's professional staff.

The department provides ample access to meet with faculty during the summer and throughout the year, but it is helpful to speak with faculty on shared interests around advising, professional development, and career advancement. As this is a professional graduate program, students are encouraged to fully develop their relationships with faculty throughout their tenure at Syracuse University.

Additional sources for advising are also available. Course planning guides are available for joint JD/M.P.A. students. Joint M.P.A./M.A.I.R. students have detailed planning guides available in the M.A.I.R. handbook. The department also maintains a record of all prior course syllabi in the PAIA and Executive Students Blackboard page for students to review, as well as on the Department's Answers.syr.edu page here.

Academic advising for M.P.A. students begins during the summer session, when PAIA hosts a curriculum advising fair where the program director will provide an overview of different area of study and certificate of advanced study options available to students, and students will have an opportunity to meet with area of study faculty advisors to learn more about the relevant opportunities. The fair is intended to support students' decision-making about courses in advance of the fall registration, which begins August 1.

For more in-depth course advising, M.P.A. students should consult with PAIA staff and faculty members, on how to structure their program and what courses will help them achieve their professional goals.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT DEGREE PROGRAMS

M.P.A. students may complete the M.P.A. and a second graduate degree on a joint or concurrent basis. While just about any combination of areas of study is possible, some recent examples of concurrent degrees completed include graduate study in public administration combined with law, international relations, economics, information science and technology, political science, geography, social work, and management.

In cases where two or more distinct graduate degrees are to be awarded by Syracuse University to one student, the minimum number of credit-hours needed must be at least 80% of the combined total of Syracuse credit-hours normally required for each of the separate degrees. All concurrent degree M.P.A. students will complete a minimum of 34 credits of coursework in the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs.

JD/M.P.A. JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM

The connection between law, public policy, and management is clear. This is particularly true in the many areas where laws and regulations are revised daily. The joint JD/M.P.A. program prepares students to address these challenges at all levels of government, as well as in the traditional legal services field.

Students in the joint JD/M.P.A. program obtain both the JD and M.P.A. degrees with a minimum of 97 overall credits, including 72 credits at the Syracuse University College of Law and 25 credits within PAIA.

JD/M.P.A. - CORE COURSE REQUIREMENTS (25 Credits)

Joint JD/M.P.A. students must complete the following required Public Administration courses.

PAI 600	Public Affairs Colloquium
PAI 712	Public Organizations and Management
PAI 721	Introduction to Statistics
PAI 722	Quantitative Analysis
PAI 723	Economics for Public Decisions
PAI 734	Public Budgeting
PAI 751	JD/M.P.A. Seminar: Regulatory Law and Policy ¹

Students must also enroll in two PAI electives for six additional credits of coursework for a total of 25 credits of PAI coursework. This is in addition to 72 credits of coursework at the College of Law. Joint JD/M.P.A. students must also complete LAW 702 Administrative Law as a pre-requisite for PAI 751, JD/M.P.A. Seminar: Regulatory Law and Policy.

Due to university regulations, there are specific guidelines for acceptable courses allowed toward the 25 PAI credits required for the M.P.A. portion of the joint JD/M.P.A. degree. Student may NOT use the following types of credit to meet the M.P.A. degree requirements:

- Credit for coursework completed outside PAIA.
- Credit for internships or independent studies.

PROGRAM SEQUENCE

Students pursuing the joint JD/M.P.A. program begin M.P.A. coursework during the summer between their 1L and 2L years. It is highly recommended that all joint JD/M.P.A. students complete four credits of PAIA coursework (PAI), the M.P.A. Colloquium and Public Budgeting, during the summer immediately before their 2L year, as this permits them to take remaining M.P.A. degree credits in their 2L & 3L years. There are several suggested course patterns, but students should consult with their advising staff in the College of Law and PAIA for more information.

¹ Satisfies the University's comprehensive requirement for the master's program. This course is cross-listed in the College of Law - but all joint JD/MPA Students MUST register for this course under the PAI 751 prefix.

The final 15 credits of coursework towards the M.P.A. degree can be comprised of courses taken towards the 72 credits of law coursework taken at the Syracuse University College of Law. These courses should be policy focused. To use College of Law Coursework towards the M.P.A. degree, it must be (1) graded and (2) have earned a grade of B or better.

² PAI 751 carries a pre-/co-requisite of LAW 702: Administrative Law.

M.P.A./MA-INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (M.A.I.R.) JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM

The joint degree in public administration and international relations (M.P.A./IR) allows for in-depth exploration of international relations-focused coursework alongside their specialization in public sector management.

More information on the Master of Arts in International Relations (M.A.I.R.) is found in the M.A.I.R. handbook.

MASTER OF ARTS IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The M.A.I.R. degree requires graduate students to develop significant academic and professional expertise in one of five career track concentrations. These are as follows:

- Conflict Resolution
- Data Analysis for International Affairs
- International Development
- International Political Economy
- International Service
- Regional Concentration
- Security Studies

PROGRAM SEQUENCE

The M.P.A./M.A.I.R. degree requires students to complete core requirements for both individual degrees as part of 58 credits of total graduate coursework. Most students spend three semesters on Syracuse University's main campus and at least one semester conducting overseas research or professional development opportunities in their chosen field of focus.

The M.A.I.R. handbook provides a more detailed course planning sheet, as well as information on international opportunities and off-campus practical development.

M.P.A./M.A.I.R. - Dual-Degree Program

Core Requirements (31 credits)

PAI 600	PA Colloquium
PAI 705	Research Design, OR ANT 681: Ethnographic Techniques , OR PAI 722: Quantitative Analysis ³ , OR PSC 691: Logic of Political Inquiry ⁴
PAI 710	International Actors and Issues

³ If a student uses PAI 722 to fulfill the IR research design requirement, they will still have to complete 58 credits of coursework for the dual degree.

⁴ With faculty permission

PAI 712	Public Organizations & Management, OR PAI 748 Non-Profit Management OR PAI 762 Challenges of International Management and Leadership
PAI 721	Introduction to Statistics
PAI 722	Quantitative Analysis⁵
PAI 723	Economics for Public Decisions
PAI 734	Public Budgeting
PAI 752	M.P.A. Workshop
PAI 753	Leadership and Public Policy
PAI 755	Public Administration and Democracy

Career Track Coursework (12 credits)

The international relations career track is comprised of four internationally focused courses drawn from offerings across the Maxwell School. This should include one professional practicum/internship in the selected career track area. More Information on the career tracks can be found in the Master of Arts in International Relations Handbook.

Three PAI electives (Nine credits)

These classes are drawn from offerings that carry PAI course prefixes.

One International Relations Electives (three credits)

This is drawn from an internationally focused course from the broader Syracuse University community.

International Relations Signature Course

As international relations is an interdisciplinary field, students develop the ability to analyze policy and programmatic challenges from a variety of social science perspectives through the choice of a signature course. A revised list of signature courses is published by the department at the beginning of the academic year.

Demonstrated language proficiency

Students completing the Master of Arts in International Relations must demonstrate language proficiency at the advanced intermediate level, as defined as four semesters of undergraduate language study or an equivalent.

Professional Internship

Students completing the Master of Arts in International Relations must complete an international relations-focused internship during their studies. This internship can be completed for-credit or not-for-credit.

⁵ If a student uses PAI 722 to fulfill the IR research design requirement, they will still have to complete 58 credits of coursework for the dual degree.

ATLANTIS DOUBLE-DEGREE PROGRAM

In partnership with the Hertie School of Governance in Berlin, Germany, the Department of Public Administration, and International Affairs offers a double-degree program focused on transatlantic policy and management issues.

Students can pursue the M.P.A. degree at the Maxwell School and a Master of Public Policy (MPP) or Master of International Affairs (MIA) from the Hertie School. The combined study program requires students to begin their studies in Syracuse, completing 4 semesters of study in the United States (summer, fall, spring, summer), and then a year of study in Europe.

Any student enrolled in the Atlantis program completes 34 credits of coursework at the Maxwell School, consisting of the M.P.A. core requirements and three M.P.A. electives. The remaining six credits are transferred from the Hertie School of Governance.⁶

To complete both the MPP and MIA degrees, students must complete an original master's thesis paper under the auspices of a Hertie School faculty supervisor. Students should meet with PAIA advising staff, to prepare their fall and spring semester course loads.

While taking courses at the Hertie School, students remain matriculated students at Syracuse, enrolled in GRD 998 Degree in Progress.⁷

Program Sequence

More detail on student progress through the Atlantis Double-Degree Program is available in the Atlantis Handbook, published annually in August.

⁶ Note that 6 credits of Syracuse University graduate coursework are equivalent to 12 European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) credits.

⁷ Students may also have to submit a Certificate of Full-Time Status form.

CERTIFICATES OF ADVANCED STUDY OPTIONS

Syracuse University offers a variety of Certificates of Advanced Study (CAS) allowing students to obtain additional specialization in a subject-matter area beyond their graduate degree focus.

CAS OPTIONS FOR MATRICULATED GRADUATE STUDENTS

The following certificates are available to students matriculated into SU graduate programs:

CAS IN CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANIZATIONS

The CAS in Civil Society Organizations prepares professionals for the NGO field or for research focusing on the roles of non-state actors in global civil society. The CAS requires 15-credits of coursework focusing on global civil society issues. This includes work in disciplines ranging from public administration and political science to sociology, geography, social work, and law. This coursework integrates theoretical and applied perspectives on NGOs and civil society actors and supports multidisciplinary graduate training around this field.

The CAS requires students to take the required pro-seminar (PAI 713: Governance & Global Society), one foundational perspective course, two discipline specific courses, and a capstone experience (the M.P.A. Workshop can serve as this experience for M.P.A. students). Specific details are on the Transnational NGO Initiative website.

CAS IN CONFLICT AND COLLABORATION

The Program for the Advancement of Research on Conflict and Collaboration (PARCC) offers a 12-credit CAS in Conflict and Collaboration that allows students to pursue in-depth study of conflict theory, concepts, and skills.

To earn the CAS, students complete Fundamentals of Conflict Studies (PAI 601) and nine additional credits of selected coursework. Students pursuing the CAS may choose a general area of study or concentrate on a specific area of interest, such as advocacy and activism; collaborative governance; environmental collaboration and conflict; or international and intra-state conflict. For more information, contact PARCC in 400 Eggers Hall or by phone at 315.443.2367.

CAS IN DATA ANALYTICS FOR PUBLIC POLICY

The 12-credit, graduate-level Certificate of Advanced Study (CAS) in Data Analytics for Public Policy provides students the opportunity to develop skills in managing and analyzing substantial amounts of data using emerging methods and techniques, including machine learning, to inform public sector decision-making.

The program also provides students familiarity with the policy and governance issues raised by the use of new forms of data, cognitive assistance technologies, and algorithmic decision-making. To earn the certificate, students complete the required PAI 724 Data Driven Management and 9 additional credits of graduate coursework selected from a list of accepted courses. At least 9 credits must be taken in the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs. For more information contact the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs at paia@syr.edu.

CAS IN HEALTH SERVICES ADMINISTRATION AND POLICY - HSMP

In concert with the Whitman School of Management, the Syracuse University College of Law, Falk School of Sport and Human Dynamics and Syracuse University College of Engineering, the Maxwell School has developed a CAS focused on the United States' health service sector.

The CAS provides a multi-disciplinary perspective on the issues facing the health care system. Students enrolled in the certificate program complete courses designed to bring medical, business, legal and social work professionals together to discuss tradeoffs, conflicts, and complementary forces in managing the health care system in the changing environment.

Students enrolled in the CAS complete 12 credits of coursework (two required courses and two elective courses) drawn from the broader Maxwell School offerings related to health policy, health management, or health research. For further information, visit: <https://www.maxwell.syr.edu/academics/certificates-of-advanced-study/health-services-administration-and-policy>

CAS IN POST-CONFLICT RECONSTRUCTION

Administered by the Institute for Security Policy and Law (ISPL), a joint Maxwell School and Syracuse University College of Law initiative, this CAS is available to all graduate students.

The CAS in Post-Conflict Reconstruction (PCR) combines interdisciplinary courses, seminars, and internship opportunities to offer graduates the unique opportunity to prepare themselves professionally for a career in a wide range of post-conflict stabilization, reconstruction, and peace-building environments.

For the CAS, participating students complete 12 credits (two required courses, one elective course, and one capstone experience consisting of a course, project, or internship). Classes are offered in almost all Maxwell departments as well as the College of Law, Newhouse School of Communications, and Whitman School of Management. Additional information is available at their website: <https://securitypolicylaw.syr.edu/> or visit ISPL at 300 Dineen Hall.

CAS IN SECURITY STUDIES

Administered by ISPL, this CAS is available to all graduate students. It is a 12-credit (six required, six elective), interdisciplinary, law and policy studies program for students preparing for careers in national security, homeland security, and counterterrorism.

Security studies coursework and research covers US national security, national and international security threats, responses to terrorism, and challenges of homeland security preparedness and response. CAS recipients collaborate across a range of disciplines, including public administration, international relations, political science, law, history, and communications. Additional information is available at their website: <https://securitypolicylaw.syr.edu/> or visit ISPL at 300 Dineen Hall.

ACADEMIC OFFERINGS FOR 2023-2024

The following table identifies coursework taught by PAIA faculty and designed for M.P.A. and Executive M.P.A. students that is scheduled to be offered during the 2023-24 academic year.

While this list is current as of the publication date of this handbook, it is subject to change due to unexpected circumstances. For up-to-date course offerings and schedules, please consult the departmental course list, available online, and MySlice. ACADEMIC AND PERSONAL STANDARDS

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

The Academic Integrity Office of the Division of Academic Affairs at Syracuse University administers the University's academic integrity policy. PAIA takes academic integrity very seriously.

Syracuse University aspires to the highest standards of integrity and honesty in all endeavors. The Academic Integrity Policy is designed to make integrity and honesty central to the Syracuse University experience by setting forth clear ethical expectations for students in their academic endeavors; promoting consistency of standards and practices across colleges, schools and programs; encouraging reporting of suspected violations; and facilitating the resolution of cases as promptly as possible while providing thorough and fair consideration for students and instructors. Education is a central goal of the policy, including affording students an opportunity to discuss and learn from academic integrity violations.

Academic integrity is expected of all Syracuse University community members and the academic integrity policy applies to all school and colleges. A more detailed description of the academic integrity expectations of the Syracuse University community are detailed online at the center for Learning and Student Success's website: <http://class.syr.edu/academic-integrity/policy/>.

This University, like all academic institutions in the United States, assumes that the written work of a student is the student's own, and that any original idea or research contributions taken from the published works of others will be properly acknowledged. In an academic setting, plagiarism is a serious concern. The presentation of other's ideas, opinions, and words as one's own work violates academic integrity, and any violation of academic integrity will be penalized by the university.

GRADING SYSTEM

Graduate students at Syracuse University are graded on an A-F scale. Please note that it is a Syracuse University academic regulation that graduate students may not be assigned the grade of D or D-.

Passing grades for graduate students lie within the general A, B, and C category. Since the graduate school requires a minimum 3.0 grade point average to certify a graduate degree, a grade below that threshold should be regarding as a strong indicator that coursework was below faculty expectations.

Graduate students may be granted an incomplete (I) only if it can be demonstrated that exceptional circumstances prohibit the student from completing work in the normal time limits of the course. Generally speaking, illness or other exceptional circumstances are the basis for this consideration. Students who believe that their circumstances warrant the issuance of an incomplete should consult with the course instructor.

To receive an incomplete, a student must complete a Request for Incomplete form and obtain the instructor's approval. The completed and signed Request for Incomplete is then submitted to the appropriate departmental chairperson. Until the work is completed, an incomplete calculates as an F (0 grade points) until the final work is submitted.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

As graduate students at Syracuse University, you are expected to abide by the university's universal student code of conduct. All Syracuse University students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner appropriate to the University's educational mission. The University expects that all members of the community are committed to the fundamental ideals of integrity, respect for the person and property of others, and to the intellectual and personal growth within a diverse population.

For more details on the Syracuse University Student Code of Conduct, please visit:

<https://policies.syr.edu/policies/academic-rules-student-responsibilities-and-services/code-of-student-conduct/>

SERVICES, FACILITIES, AND STUDENT ACTIVITIES

As a graduate student at the Maxwell School, you have access to programs available to all graduate and undergraduate students at Syracuse University, as well as resources designed specifically for Maxwell School and PAIA graduate students.

PAIA office staff are your first point of contact as you work to navigate the complexities of the Syracuse University system.

JOHN L. AND STEPHANIE G. PALMER CAREER CENTER

Located in 202 Maxwell Hall, the John L. and Stephanie G. Palmer Career Center offers resources specifically tailored to support the post-graduate career pursuits of graduate students in public administration and international affairs.

Recognizing that a career will evolve throughout its lifetime, the Palmer Career Center emphasizes development of the skills necessary to adapt to the changing work world.

During the year, the Palmer Career Center provides opportunities to participate in career-related workshops, employer visits, and networking opportunities. Students can also discuss their career goals and establish a career action plan with the dedicated counselors at the Palmer Career Center.

MAXWELL SCHOOL OFFICE OF ALUMNI AFFAIRS

The Maxwell School alumni network covers a wide variety of domestic and international agencies and organizations and is a significant resource for those seeking information about organizations and/or networking for a job. Maxwell Alumni are happy to speak with graduate students and alumni about their career interests and job search process. In addition, many alumni visit the school during the course of the year to speak in classes and participate in workshops and in panel discussions. These alumni are also an important part of the network and are happy to talk informally with students.

JOSEPH A. STRASSER ACADEMIC VILLAGE

Public administration and international relations students enjoy their own Academic Village, named in honor of Maxwell alumnus, Joseph A. Strasser. This large area has spaces for lounging and socializing, small-group work, lockers, and a kitchenette. Students can also meet and socialize in the Eggers Café.

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION LOUNGE

Students can study or socialize in 204 Maxwell Hall.

COMPUTER SERVICES

Syracuse dedicates considerable time and resources to ensuring that all students have technology support. Each Syracuse University student receives a NetID, a unique system generated ID that provides access to technology services across campus. This includes the university's secured wireless internet through the AirOrangeX network, the SUmail email system, Blackboard class management software, and campus wide computer systems.

The SU email policy requires that all official University email communications be sent to your @syr.edu email address. If you choose to re-direct, your @syr.edu email to another account, such as @gmail.com or @yahoo.com, you do so at your own risk. You can read the full SU Email policy at: <https://policies.syr.edu/policies/information-technology/e-mail-policy/>.

Dedicated computer facilities for graduate students include the computer lab in Eggers 040, the equipment in the Academic Village, as well as all other computer facilities operated by the Syracuse University Information Technology and Services Department (ITS), found at <http://its.syr.edu>.

For technical issues, whether with your own computer or any of the university provided equipment; please contact the Maxwell School's Information and Computing Technology (ICT) group. They can be reached by phone at 315.443.3847, by email at ictservice@syr.edu, or at their website: <https://ict.syr.edu/>

LIBRARY AND RESEARCH RESOURCES

Every Syracuse University student has access to the Syracuse University Libraries, hosting more than 3.6 million books, and nearly 150,000 print and electronic journals. For more information on the resources available through the Syracuse University Libraries system, including physical collections at Bird, Carnegie, and the Geology Library, please visit <http://library.syr.edu>.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY SUPPORT SERVICES

As graduate students at Syracuse University, you have access to a broad range of services available to all Syracuse University Students.

BURSAR'S OFFICE

The Syracuse University Bursar's Office, located at 119 Bowne Hall, is responsible for administering tuition and fee billing. For questions on any bill or payment related questions, they are reachable at bursar@syr.edu or by phone at 315.443.2444.

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL SERVICES

The Center for International Services (CIS)) is the campus liaison office for U.S. immigration questions concerning non-U.S. citizens. It is the place to go on campus for questions regarding immigration regulations, passports, visas, insurance, employment, and travel.

The CIS can also provide support related to I-20 forms, CPT and OPT authorization and the adjustment to academic life in the United States university system. Located at 310 Walnut Place, the SCIS's website is <http://international.syr.edu>. They can also be reached by email at international@syr.edu or by phone at 315.443.2457.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY COUNSELING CENTER

The Syracuse University Counseling Center provides mental health, sexual assault and relationship violence, and substance abuse services to the university community. The Center is located within the Barnes Center at the Arch and can be reached through its website at <https://ese.syr.edu/bewell/counseling/> or by phone at 315.443.8000.

OFFICE OF FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMS

The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship Programs, located in 200 Bowne Hall, is responsible for any questions related to financial aid and loan packages. Cynthia Roach is the dedicated graduate financial aid counselor and is reachable by email through <https://financialaid.syr.edu/>.

OFFICE OF OFF-CAMPUS AND COMMUTER STUDENT SERVICES

The OCCS is offers information, resources, education, and programs that promote skill development, student independence, and civic engagement to all Syracuse University students. OCCS also provides all students living off campus or commuting to campus from home with support, information, and resource referrals throughout their off-campus housing experience.

For students who opt for off-campus accommodations, OCCS distributes information on the network of educational and community services available to them, details on finding suitable housing, exercising their rights and upholding their responsibilities as tenants and as members of the community, and identifying resources that can assist with other off-campus housing questions. OCCS is available for in person assistance at 206 Goldstein Student Center, via phone at 315.443.3893, online at <http://offcampus.syr.edu>, and via email at oslsouth@syr.edu.

OFFICE OF STUDENT OUTREACH AND RETENTION

The Student Outreach and Retention team strives to support students in achieving their definition of success by graduating from Syracuse University and setting a foundation for the future. The team works with students, faculty, and staff to identify and eliminate academic and non-academic barriers and help students meet their goals. If a student is facing a challenge or concern that makes it difficult to meet their goals, the Student Outreach and Retention team is here to help them navigate any challenges and provide the tools and resources to empower their success.

Students struggling with aspects of campus life, or those impacted by recent events can speak with a case manager who is available to help students navigate questions or concerns, make referrals to resources, and assist in connecting with offices, faculty, and staff across the academic and campus experience.

Appointments with case managers can be made using the information at:

<https://experience.syracuse.edu/student-outreach-and-retention/>.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR DISABILITY RESOURCES

The mission of the Center for Disability Resources (CDR) is to engage the University Community to empower students, enhance equity, and provide a platform for innovation and inclusion. This mission is achieved by eliminating competitive disadvantages and environmental barriers that impact learning; as well as providing individual accommodations and assistive technology that foster independent, self-determined learners. Students with disabilities are encouraged to register with CDR on-line at <https://disabilityresources.syr.edu/> or in person at 804 University Ave., Suite 303.

OFFICE OF PARKING AND TRANSIT SERVICES

The Office of Parking and Transit Services serves as a one-stop location for information on transit around campus. On their website at <http://parking.syr.edu>, you will be able to find information about student parking, bus schedules to and from campus, campus shuttle information, Zipcar rental, as well as how to reach the Walsh Transit Center and Hancock International Airport.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

The Office of the Registrar maintains and secures student records and is responsible for the issuance of Enrollment and Degree Verification Letters, as well as official university transcripts.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICES (SUHS)

Syracuse University Health Services (SUHS) specializes in college health and provides ambulatory healthcare for SU and SUNY-ESF students. Services available at Health Services include office visits, pharmacy needs, laboratory services, health education, public health monitoring, and travel services. SUHS is located at the Barnes Center at the Arch. Appointments can be made by phone at 315.443.8000.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY RECREATION SERVICES

Syracuse University Recreation Services supports the university community in developing healthy lifestyle choices by enhancing learning opportunities and personal growth through the execution of quality recreation programs and services that support and promote the highest levels of citizenship, diversity, sportsmanship, responsibility, and leadership.

Recreation Services operates six fitness centers across campus, which have aerobic, weight training, and aquatic facilities. They also serve as the on-campus hub for fitness classes, intramural sports, and University wellness programs. Recreation Services is housed in the Barnes Center at the Arch and is accessible online at <https://www.syracuse.edu/life/recreation/>.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY OFFICE OF COMMUNITY STANDARDS

Community Standards (formerly Student Rights and Responsibilities) is committed to providing a fair and engaging process for the resolution of alleged violations of the Code of Student Conduct. We aim to cultivate a safe and secure environment in which all students can succeed and grow as engaged community members. To learn more or report a concern, please visit their website online at the following URL: <https://experience.syracuse.edu/community-standards/>
